

DESIGNED FOR RELIABILITY

To estimate the real cost of a durable good, you need to calculate all the expenditure items relating to the entire life cycle of the product. This applies also to any dental unit: its evaluation should not be limited to its purchase price, but also to its maintenance and management costs. The reliability and low incidence of assistance interventions required by VITALI units significantly reduce the total cost of ownership, increasing the profitability of the dental practice.

AESTHETICALLY PERFECT

For the company's new range of units, VITALI's designers have created distinctive, dynamic and rounded lines that give the operating environment a modern and professional image whilst also reassuringly welcoming the patient. The clean lines and balanced shapes of the units are once again the parameters of a style and type of aesthetics that is designed to last.

SUPER-TESTED ERGONOMICS

The new VITALI chair is small in size in order to facilitate the dentist's and nurse's approach to the work area. The balanced arms with "limit stop" device ensure excellent maneuverability which does not fatigue either your hand or wrist. The operator's table with double rotation can be both vertically and horizontally adjusted. The overall ergonomics allow the dentist to assume the most natural position in any operation and to harmoniously interact with the nurse.

THE VERSATILITY THAT YOU'RE LOOKING FOR

Each VITALI unit is customized according to the needs of the professional and his staff, from the configuration of the operator's table to the choice of the nurse console, operating lamp, multimedia equipment and optional internal disinfection system devices (VDS). The operational versatility is enhanced by the simple and precise storage of the various parameters via the touch technology (V8 TOUCH).

QUALITY IN EVERY DETAIL

Quality is not an abstract principle rather, it is an objective made of tangible elements and rigorous corporate processes. For the company VITALI, the quality objective means exclusive materials (aluminium, stainless steel, bronze), high-quality components, working standards of absolute precision and certified procedures, starting from strict controls of materials and suppliers to in-house production up to the final testing of units.

IF AT LEAST 5 REASONS CONVINCE YOU

THEN VITALI IS THE IDEAL DENTAL UNIT FOR YOU

COMPLETELY MADE IN ITALY

VITALI produces its units entirely in Italy, in the area of Bologna, in a district that is highly specialized in the field of medical equipment. This means that it can count on a product "culture" that sums up technical skills to achieve excellence in product development, high-profile professionalism and commitment to work.

COMFORT FOR YOU AND FOR THE PATIENT

Sit back for a moment and imagine you are the patient: you'll have one more reason to choose a VITALI unit! The new chair offers unprecedented comfort thanks to the synchronized movement of seat and backrest, the anatomic headrest with pneumatic adjustment (optional) and the option of Memory Foam padding. All these features, combined with quiet movements and easy sanitation, make the new chair a cutting-edge item in terms of practicality, convenience and safety.

IT IS WORTH MORE THAN WHAT IT COSTS

The low cost demand implies an inevitable consequence: to sacrifice part of quality and service so as to offer a lower price. As an alternative to this trend, VITALI has always supported the philosophy of the "right price", as confirmed by the rationalisation of its new models. In fact, the adoption of multiple solutions across the entire product range has allowed the company to optimize production costs and, consequently, sales prices.

SEVENTY YEARS OF TRADITION

Tradition is something that goes beyond the mere evocation of the past. It is the ability to evolve in technology and to imagine an ever new future while remaining consistent with the principles of professionalism, fairness and transparency which are the company's core and roots. This is how the company's 70-year history has developed, a history that unites Italian creativity, technical insights and human values. A history that continues today in the new VITALI factory, which have been built respecting the environment and that can ensure a complete and efficient production cycle, from research to design, from production to testing.

TAILORED SERVICE

VITALI's experience confirms that the satisfaction expressed by users in respect of any product is increasingly connected to the quality of the service given. For this reason, the worldwide network of VITALI retailers is, first and foremost, a network of consultants dedicated to dental practice and its needs. An organization that ensures continuity of post-sale interventions, with a timely and efficient maintenance service, even many years after the purchase of the dental unit.
